Hey sweetheart...

By the way...I really liked having you ride shotgun next to me Friday night...It was very special for me for you to take that spot in the front seat...

but at the end at my truck you looked upset or hurt and to be honest I felt really bad that maybe I had done something or that a boy hurt you in some way...I hope it was not me..because I love you and my only task right now is taking care of you....Maybe _____ did something or worse maybe _____ did something...I really want to know baby so please email over the weekend..I worry too much about you and waiting until Monday to find out will be painful...I will tell you at least 2 high school guys asked if you were with anyone and who you were..etc...I cannot think of their names but I will look into the yearbook...They were with me last year and they are both awesome guys.. _____ I know likes you and he is my buddy..But you may now be with _____ and that is great...Obviously you have moved on from who seemed like a lost puppy the whole night...I did deal with a lot of drama with _____ and _____ and all of them want to see me Monday..but I dont care...I just care about you and I am so glad you and _____ liked the gifts...You actually coming over hugging me made my night because hugged me and I knew you were happy and very grateful...My Xmas gift to you both will be far nicer than these gifts to thank you for being the two girls I care about the most at Voyager...Got to go sweetie but I hope you can find 5 minutes to let me know you are ok...I luv you sweetie..Ed
