Proposed State Legislative Redistricting Plans to be Released Tuesday

Raleigh, N.C. – Senator Bob Rucho (R-Mecklenburg) and Representative David Lewis (R-Harnett) released a statement today updating the schedule for the release of proposed state legislative redistricting plans. The Joint House and Senate Redistricting Committee leadership will release their proposed redistricting maps for the N.C. House and Senate on Tuesday, July 12.

Rep. Lewis said, “In an attempt to finalize proposed legislative maps and make them available to the public, we will be releasing them on Tuesday. It is important that we fully consider public input as we draw district lines and are responsive to the ideas of citizens that we have heard at public hearings.”

“It is paramount that the proposed maps be fair and legal as they are released. We look forward to unveiling them tomorrow and hearing from citizens across the state at public hearings next Monday,” added Sen. Rucho.

The Joint House and Senate Committee on Redistricting will host public hearings across the state on Monday, July 18, to give the public an opportunity to share their ideas on proposed redistricting maps for the State House and State Senate. Proposed plans can viewed on the General Assembly website at <http://ncleg.net/redistricting>.
