

Message0171
Subject:	RE: number
From:	Young, Jason
Date:	10/5/2006 2:56:00 PM
To:	'Young, Michelle'
Message Body
I just found out that Stephanie's friend named Maggie ended up getting a ticket to the game...that is why she didn't return calls evidently, so she is out. This morning I left word for Lisa that I was probably going to use one of Steph's friends b/c she could get there earlier than the 6:30pm timeframe that Lisa could make it in. I have tried to call Lisa back, but I left her a v/m. I know she was hesitant from the start b/c of a test tomorrow anyway. Unless I hear from Lisa about the game soon, I will go to the game with Cass. I will take care of her and do not need to hear a lecture about weather, rain or temperature. I have always felt I am extremely cognizant of my daughter's health in EVERY since, even more so than you in most cases. I do not want to hear anything else on the subject, or we will have another disagreement. You have trouble lying in the bed you make for yourself. You are the first person to gripe, complain and be very bitter about tailgates...yet you tell me over the phone I need to "read" your email closer and you're all big about getting out there b/c you've had a long week and month. Well, I did read your message and in it you say you want to sit and watch the game...WHAT does that have to do with going out and tailgating early? When is the last time you had fun at a tailgate and didn't complain about me, my actions, your "friends", their actions, not drinking, the heat, the weather or any other thing you can. Yet ironically, you want to put yourself through all those negative things that you typically bitch about...I just don't get you.....you can't have it both ways. I also never said I was just going with Rhett "even if were only a matter of getting there 15-30 min. ahead of time". I told you Rhett left me a message about getting out there at 4:30 and that was what I wanted to do. I then told you that if you want to make the world revolve around you (like you typically do) then you can call him your self b/c I refused too. I do not want to be grouped in with you b/c of the way you are always running late and with a 4 hour tailgate window, that is just wrong on your part. I will go pick up Cass, bring her back here for dinner and go to the game from there. Hopefully, you will lighten up at some point in your life, but if not, don't try to bring me with you for I have no desire for that type of experience. jy
From: Young, Michelle [mailto:Michelle.Young@pgnmail.com] Sent: Thursday, October 05, 2006 9:56 AM To: Young, Jason Subject: number
Stephanie's friend's name is Maggie. Her # is
These games are supposed to be fun family time we spend together. While you are right, I can't drink, I've had a very long week (and month) at work and am looking forward to just taking a break and having some fun hanging out and watching the game. I would appreciate it if you and I could try to get along. My feelings were hurt after yesterday when you said you would wait on me as long as I could get out at a reasonable hour (which I should without a problem) and then you said you were just going to go with Rhett even if it were only a matter of getting there 15-30 min. ahead of time. I'll email Rhett and see if I can work out detes with him.

I would appreciate it if you would pack a cooler with beer and water for the game so that I have something to drink as well. What do you want to do about dinner? We have plenty of buns, hot dogs, etc. left to grill or we could pick something up or eat in the game. Please just take care of that. Thanks,

Michelle Young

Progress Energy Service Company, LLC

Tax Department

Senior Financial Specialist

phone: (919) 546-2514

fax: (919) 546-7653

michelle.young@pgnmail.com

Outlook Header Information

Conversation Topic: number
Subject: RE: number
From: Young, Jason
Sender Name: Young, Jason
To: 'Young, Michelle'
Delivery Time: 10/5/2006 2:56:00 PM
Creation Time: 10/5/2006 2:25:20 PM
Submit Time: 10/5/2006 2:58:27 PM
Importance: Normal
Priority: Normal
Sensitivity: Normal
Flags: 1 = Read
Size: 11520